

Cookie Policy

This cookie policy explains how cookies are used by Allianz Global Corporate & Specialty SE Singapore Branch and its affiliates ("Allianz"). By using our website you agree to the use of cookies as outlined in this policy. Please disable cookies on your device if you do not wish to accept cookies from us.

Use of Cookies

Allianz may use "cookies" to improve our internet service to you. Cookies are small data files that are automatically stored on your web browser in your computer that can be retrieved by Allianz's website. Cookies enable Allianz's website to remember you and your preferences when you visit the website and enable us to tailor the website to your needs. The information collected by cookies is anonymous visitor's personalised settings information and contains no name or address information or any information that will enable anyone to contact you via telephone, e-mail or any other means. No customer personal data is stored in cookies. However, you can disable cookies by changing the settings of your web browser.

Allianz may also work with third parties who use applications such as Facebook and Google Inc., to research certain usage and activities on parts of our website on our behalf. These third parties use technologies such as tracking tags and "cookies", etc. to conduct such research. The information collected through technologies such as tracking tags and cookies, etc. are used to find out more about our users, including number of the visitors, their behaviour and usage patterns, for more accurate reporting and to improve the effectiveness of our marketing.

Information recorded through the use of these applications is aggregated, and no personally identifiable information about you is collected or shared by these third parties with Allianz as a result of such research. No customer personal data is stored through these technologies.
